PROFESSOR HENRY G. JESUP, since 1877 professor of botany in Dartmouth College, has resigned.

DR. AUGUST L. RIMBACH (Ph.D., Jena, 1887), of Jena, Germany, has been appointed instructor in vegetable physiology and pathology in the University of Nebraska. He was professor of botany and zoology in the University of Cuenca, Ecuador, from 1889 to 1894, after which he spent nearly two years in botanical travel in the Andes and along the Pacific coast of tropical South America. More recently he has given his time to botanical researches in Germany. These have been chiefly physiological and ecological, and the results have appeared in numerous papers in the German botanical journals.

PROFESSOR E. A. BURNETT, of the Agricultural College of South Dakota, has accepted the chair of animal husbandry in the University of Nebraska, and will resume the duties of his new position at the opening of the fall semester. Mr. Abel A. Hunter has been appointed botanical collector for the University.

MR. H. G. TIMBERLAKE, of the University of Michigan, has been appointed instructor in botany in the University of Wisconsin, and Mr. G. T. Moore, of Harvard University, has received a similar appointment at Dartmouth College.

DR. E. H. STARLING, F.R.S., has been elected to the Jodrell professorship of physiology in the University of London, in succession to Professor Schäfer, who, as we have already stated, has accepted a call to Edinburgh.

DR. SUTHERLAND, assistant professor of pathology at Glasgow, has been appointed professor of pathology at St. Andrews, in the place of Professor Muir, recently appointed professor of pathology at Glasgow.
